

i first got exposed to air one radio station ,which is 90.1 in my area, a little over two years ago. i was riding in the car with some other people who liked it. at the time, it didn't attract me that much, but a few months later i was flipping through the stations and stopped when i heard a catchy tune-- but more than that the words had caught my attention. i was going through some difficult times in my marriage and the words really comforted me. from that point on i checked out that radio station frequently. now i listen to it every day and i am a financial supporter. i like their music choices. it is very uplifting and it's a positive alternative to what else is out there. i always feel better after listening to that station. sometimes if i try another radio station, i may feel a little down--but maybe not-- but i never feel as positive and uplifted as i do after listening to air one. i know that other people and friends feel the same way i do. air one is more than a radio station. it's a ministry that has touched lives. please make sure that air one continues to be as available as it is today. please don't displace it by an LPFM broadcaster providing other programming. thank you for your time and consideration in this matter, debbie sullivan
